

Mental Health Awareness

THE INDUCTION SERIES

► COURSE OVERVIEW

Over many years (most predominantly the last 30 years), Mental Health issues have become one of the primary reasons for the lost time in productivity. This is due to absenteeism, presenteeism, and compensation in the global marketplace, to the tune of billions of dollars.

It is recommended all Managers and Supervisors take appropriate steps to prevent and manage psychosocial hazards and risks in their workplace. Workplace psychosocial hazards and risks are related to the psychological and social conditions of the workplace rather than just the physical conditions. This online course will outline workplace expectations and responsibilities in the following areas:

- Increase awareness around Mental Health;
- Educate Managers and Supervisors on their legal and organisational obligations to provide a psychologically safe and inclusive work environment; and
- Educate Managers and Supervisors on how to identify signs, symptoms and at-risk behaviours of mental health conditions in the workplace.
